Fundraising Activities – Terms and Conditions

Thank you for your interest in raising funds for Break The Silence. We're delighted that you have chosen to support our charity. For legal purposes, we require that you read and comply with these terms and conditions as they apply to all voluntary fundraising activity carried out in our name.

You will be carrying out fundraising activities as an independent supporter of Break The Silence and should therefore use the term "in aid of Break The Silence". As an independent supporter, you must comply with our terms and conditions for fundraising activities.

Break The Silence are not responsible for any costs, taxes or expenses incurred or arising in connection with your fundraising activity and any risks arising out of your fundraising activity are your responsibility, including liability for any injury or loss which may occur to you, your helpers or guests and therefore you should take all reasonable precautions to protect the health and safety of all those participating in, involved with or attending your activity as Break The Silence insurance will not cover your fundraising activity.

You should comply with applicable laws and regulations relating to your fundraising activity, including obtaining any necessary licenses, consents or permissions e.g. if you are holding a raffle or lottery, or are proposing to sell alcohol.

You should not do anything that threatens or damages the Break The Silence reputation or name, or that might be considered offensive to those affected by childhood sexual abuse/rape. If you do, we reserve the right to ask you to cease your fundraising activity with immediate effect.

You are required to pay all proceeds raised by your fundraising event to Break The Silence as soon as possible after the event and at latest 28 days following the event, unless otherwise agreed. Payment must be as per our payment guidelines – details of which are available separately. No costs can be deducted unless agreed in writing with Break The Silence in advance.

Where appropriate and where eligible, you should encourage gift aid declarations - this may enable us to recover basic rate tax on such donations. Further information about the Gift Aid scheme can be found on our website or in our fundraising pack.

You may only use the Break The Silence name and not our logo for your fundraising activities unless using a template poster downloaded from our website. You can apply for permission to use our logo but you need to tell us how you propose to use it and provide us with examples and/or samples of such use if we request it. You should also quote the charity's registration numbers.

We would be delighted to publish your photographs/videos in recognition of all your hard work. However, when providing photographs or videos taken during your fundraising activity, you agree that these may be used by Break The Silence for commercial and/or fundraising purposes. By sending these to us, you are confirming that anyone featuring prominently in the photograph or video is aged 16 or over, and that they have consented to their image being used in this way.

You agree that Break The Silence can use the details that you have provided to us to discuss your fundraising activity and to follow up on your progress.

If you are under 18, you confirm that you have shown these terms and conditions to your parent/guardian and they have agreed to accept responsibility for complying with these terms and conditions.
